THE SCRIPTURE- October 29, 2017Thirtieth Sunday in Ordinary Times

The Christian catechism is not difficult; it can all be learnt in one lesson. If we obey the commandment of LOVE we fulfill the whole law. The rest is just comment and explanation. This is the message we learn from the gospel today.

We love God when we listen to his Word and live as he wants us to live. Prayer is not meant to give something to God, but to help us to be ready to do his will. It is not a matter of keeping this or that commandment. To love God it is necessary to be ready to respond to the needs of our brothers and sisters. As Jesus said: "Always treat others as you want them to treat you...." (Mt 7:12). This is more taxing than the observance of norms and prescriptions.

If I make the children happy, I make their parents happy. The same with God; We reach him through his children. We love him only by loving others. This is why Jesus joins the two commandments. And Jesus wants love to be extended to all people; his disciples must do good even to their enemies (Mt 5:45-48).

St. Paul in today's second reading; gives us the example of the community of Thessalonica who obeyed the law of love. In Christians communities members should exchange experiences, meets face to face, discuss problems, encourage each other to be faithful to Christ, to keep in touch with one another, to know one another, to exchange news and live in unity not everybody for himself; not each one just go his way caring little or nothing about anybody else.

Finally, let us apply this commandment of love to our less fortunate brothers and sisters, strangers, orphans and widows.

To God be the Glory and in Him we trust!
